Alonzo Hyde Dead Three Days Before Body Is Found

ALONZO E. HYDE, SR.
Prominent Mining Man Who Is Found at Home Where He Had Been Dead for Three Days.

EVIDENTLY stricken with apoplexy or heart failure some time Wednesday evening, Alonzo E. Hyde, 62 years old, for nearly half a century a well known resident of Salt Lake, was found dead yesterday morning in his home, 322 Tenth avenue, the discovery being made by a neighbor who chanced to visit the Hyde home at about 11 o'clock. From the condition of the body, and from other indications, death occurred several days ago. Hyde was downtown Wednesday afternoon, and on his return invited one of his neighbors into the house for a glass of soda.

Yesterday when a neighbor called at the Hyde home, she found the door unlocked, and as no one responded to her knocks for admission, she entered. In an inner room the well known mining man was found a corpse. The woman immediately summoned her husband, who, in turn, notified Dr. C. F. Wilcox, and notified the office of A. E. Hyde, Jr., son of the dead man. Since the death of his wife, Anna

Taylor Hyde, the aged mining man had been living with his daughter, Miss Jean Hyde. Miss Hyde was visiting in Logan, returning yesterday afternoon after the discovery of her father's dead body. During her absence, Mr. Hyde was urged to live with another daughter, Mrs. J. F. Merrill, but he preferred to remain at home and take care of the lawn and chickens. A. E. Hyde, Jr., and wife, were in Ogden, returning yesterday afternoon.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Seventeenth ward meeting house, and burial will be in City cemetery.

Alonzo E. Hyde came to Utah with his parents in 1852. His surviving children are Mrs. J. F. Merrill, Mrs. A. J. Ridges, Alonzo E. Hyde, Jr., John Hyde, Miss Jean Hyde, Mrs. Rollin Dole of California, Harold Hyde and Gordon Hyde, the last named being a missionary for the Mormon church in the Sandwich Islands.

For many years Hyde was engaged in the mining business, and he was a prominent figure in Salt Lake. With the exception of headaches he had not complained of any illness recently, and his death came as a surprise. It is presumed that while resting after returning from downtown Hyde was seized with a severe stroke. The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Joseph William Taylor and prepared for burial.

Mr. Hyde was one of the veniremen drawn for the current term in the Third district court, and Wednesday morning he was examined as to his qualifications as a juror to sit in the Riley murder case before Judge T. D. Lewis. He was excused at noon and requested to report at 2 o'clock. At 2 o'clock he did not appear and attorneys for both sides agreed to dismiss him from the case, although he was retained on the venire and subject to call in other cases.

Ballinger-Pinchot Committee Meets Behind Closed Doors and Adjourns Until Next Saturday.

Washington, June 18.—The chances of a "verdict" from the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee during the present session of Congress are remote. The committee held a meeting today behind closed doors, but it was announced that an adjournment had been taken until next Saturday. It was learned that there were no expressions of opinion as to the merits of the case. Several of the members had not read the briefs submitted by the attorneys for the report were not prepared to begin the preparation of a report.

Mr. Nelson said after the meeting today that he did not think it would be possible for the committee to conclude its labors before the adjournment of Congress. The committee has authority to meet the recess of Congress and it is possible that the report will be completed and given to the public during the summer or fall.
